

PUBLIC LEDGER

SIXTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1897.

ONE CENT.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a vast amount of advertising "noticed" free any more than a merchant can notice his goods or a manufacturer his goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate medium for advertising. Advertisements are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter what part of the paper they appear.

We Knew We Had a Good Thing in the Stock of Goods

We bought by electric light a few days since. There is so much clap-trap Clothing advertisements in vogue just now that we refrained from saying very much about the purchase. We simply called the public's attention to it by telling them to look at the display of these goods. They were not told that we had them. We knew we would sell some of them. The warm weather left a doubt as to selling a great many now. The doubt is dispelled. Since the day we opened this purchase and placed them in our windows our store has been crowded with customers anxious to secure these unheard-of bargains. We advise our friends who contemplate buying Fall Suits and Overcoats not to let this opportunity slip. It is only once in a long time that circumstances arise that enable us to offer such a great class of clothing that can be had for less money than the cheaply gotten-up stuff that is flooding the market just now.

Our $2, $2.50 and $3 Custom-Made

SHOES!

That we warrant to give satisfaction and cheerfully return the money if they do not have quickly sprung into favor. Out of town mail orders—and of which we receive many—receive prompt attention. Look at our show-windows; none like them in the state.

He can't reconcile himself to anything that is American. Mr. THOMAS F. BAYARD, whom Mister CLEVELAND sent as United States Minister to England, and who showed his Anglo-nicinal proclivities while there to the utter disgust of all true Americans, has entered the employ of his British Free-trade friends. He has located in New York as representative of an English textile factory, at a salary of $25,000 a year for four years.

SILVER has declined 20 per cent. in the last year. How does this affect the people of Mexico? Very favorably for those who have debts to pay, but very unfavorably for those to whom money is due. If a man loaned another $100 in Mexico a year ago, all he will receive now in payment is $80, and there is no way by which he can collect the other $20. He will receive in payment one hundred Mexican dollars, the same number that he loaned, but they will be worth just four-fifths as much as when he loaned them. This shows the practical operation of the silver standard.

CONGRESSMAN HOPKINS of Illinois, in a recent talk about Cuba, expressed the opinion that "unless we are absolutely compelled to interfere from motives of humanity, it will be better for us to maintain an absolute neutrality." The fact that Mr. HOPKINS's expressions on this subject are being generally commended by the newspapers not only of his own state, but elsewhere, shows a marked change in public sentiment, which a few months ago would have rejected and resented so conservative a view of the duty of the United States in the Cuban matter as thus expressed.

THE growing demand in England and other foreign countries for American manufactures is commented on by The London Economist, which says, in a recent issue, that England is becoming a large purchaser of American manufactures, especially in iron and steel lines, and that English manufacturers must cheapen their cost of production if they are to hold their ground against the American competitor. And all this is happening under the Dingley Law, of which the Free-traders said, three months ago, that its effect would be to close foreign markets to American commerce and especially manufactures.

MARYLAND, by her recent Republican victory, now assumes a permanent position in the Republican column. In three successive years—'95, '96, '97—the Republicans have, in hard-fought campaigns on both sides, carried the state by good majorities, so that many leading politicians of both parties now look upon Maryland as a safe Republican state. This is another evidence of the steady growth of sentiment in favor of Republican principles in the South, as well as the North, the Republican representation from the South in the House having grown from year to year until it is now larger than in any previous year in the history of the country.

ANNUAL REPORT

Of Secretary Alger, of the War Department.

Suggests That Two Regiments Be Added to the Artillery Branch.

A Military Force Should Be Sent to Alaska—An Inquiry in the Name of Captain of the Michigan Artillery Regt. on board—States to Grant.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—In his final annual report, Secretary Alger makes recommendations concerning the improvement of the administration of the war department, based upon the conclusions of his subordinate officers. He asks favorable consideration for the proportionate and two regiments to the artillery branch, probably to the valuable fortifications now being erected, which he says should not be manned by a corporal's guard. He says of Alaska that as much as 100,000 men will be needed there next year, and a military force should be sent to that territory and large emergency powers should be granted to the president to suppress lawlessness. From the creation of additional militia companies, like that of St. Michael's, may be the best means to meet the problem. A boat for the patrol of the Yukon is also asked for, as well as increased pay for the enlisted men serving in Alaska.

Secretary Alger recommends the revival of the grade of lieutenant general, saying that all the great nations give their officers much higher ranks than ours in the United States. He indorses the recommendation of the superintendents of the military academy that the number of students at West Point be increased by allowing each senator to nominate a cadet. As an amendment he suggests that the president be authorized to appoint ten cadets at large each year.

Favorable comment is made upon the work of the military colleges of the country, but it is suggested that the president be given power to authorize details of army officers to call for such colleges as have at least 150 pupils actually present.

Attention is called to the need of a proper organization of the military hospitals over military reservations and of a hall of records for the storage of official papers. The estimate for army transportation is increased by $100,000 to provide means for moving heavy ordnance. It provides for the new posts needed on the sea coast an estimate of $2,000,000 is submitted.

Until recently the hospital at Hot Springs was open only to soldiers of the regular army, but Secretary Alger has just amended the regulations as to authorize the admission of suitable cases among the veterans of the late war.

In the opinion of the secretary an increase in the engineer corps in officers and enlisted men is indispensable. He points to the immense value and extent of the work now in the hands of this corps, and contends that it could be better supervised and improved in every particular by the appointment of more officers, which is now impossible.

Secretary Alger transmits without reservation the estimate of the chief of engineers for the current year, amounting to $45,738,160, more than double the appropriations for the current year. He says these are largely in excess of what they should be at a time when the demands upon the treasury are greater now, and he therefore recommends a large reduction. In justice to the chief engineer, Secretary Alger says that these estimates were made by his own direction, that the facts might be placed before Congress, thinking that the expenditure would be well all the requirements of the river and harbor laws completed with, and he cites the fact that the estimated continuations contract for river and harbor work will require an expenditure of over $300,000 for the next fiscal year. The secretary endorses the project for the construction of the ship canal connection between the Atlantic and Washington with Puget sound, but states that active operations can not be commenced for some time, as the right of way has not yet been acquired.

Secretary Alger especially commends the patriotic services of Captains and Col. Buffington and Capt. Crater, the inventors of the disappearing gun carriage, who generously donated the invention to the government.

The report clearly recommends that the provision be made for the erection in Washington of a statue to Gen. Grant.

The estimates for the next fiscal year aggregate $91,258,445, as against $92,147,000 for the current year, an increase of $9,100,000 for the current year. The principal items of increase are in rivers and harbors, where the estimate is $48,739,160, as against the appropriation of $28,978,000; fortifications and arsenals, $13,575,517, as against $9,517,141, and military posts, parks and cemeteries, $2,558,639, against $880,967.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Yellow fever has appeared at Fort Monroe near Hampton Roads. This is not in a degree sufficient to alarm the war department officials, who feel that owing to the lateness of the season there is little danger of a spread of the disease. A dispatch from the Adj'ty. Gen. reported that one soldier had died from the fever, but giving no details. Surgeon General Sternberg has been advised of the matter, but he does not regard it as necessary to remove the garrison.

Quarantine Restrictions Raised. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 22.—Superintendent William Newbold of the Louisville and Nashville railroad authority has issued an order that all quarantine restrictions against any and all yellow fever infected districts were raised by the states authorities Saturday at noon.

THE GREAT BULK

Of the Fire Losses in the London Conflagration.

Will Fall Upon the American Insurance Companies.

Only Two Firemen Were Slightly Hurt During the Work of Extinguishing the Flames—All Historical Treasures of Cripsis Gate Church Were Saved.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A number of fire engines are still playing upon the smoldering ruins which mark the scene of the great conflagration near the general post office. Walls are falling here and there.

It is impossible to accurately estimate the damage done, but the direct loss will probably be below $10,000,000. Considered all India there has been nothing like it. It is believed that the losses will necessitate heavy rates by insurance companies and most of the insurance companies' shares have dropped 10 to 30 shillings.

The Eventful Year. In its financial article Saturday afternoon says it believed that the bulk of the fire losses will fall upon American insurance companies.

The last flames disappeared by 11 o'clock Saturday morning, but a massive shower of water is still being poured upon the red-hot masses of ruins. The burned district is surrounded by enormous crowds of people and the railroads are running extra trains from every side.

In spite of the magnitude of the disaster, only two firemen were slightly injured during the work of extinguishing the flames.

A few hundred fires are seeking new offices. The estimates of the amount of damage done range from $10,000,000 to $30,000,000, but according to the best opinion the loss is about $10,000,000.

The official report says the cause of the fire is unknown.

A large number of warehouses from five to six stories high have been burned and partly leveled, the whole covering an area of 200 by 100 yards, bounded by Nicholl Street, Edmunds place, Jemison street, Australian avenue, Paul's alley and Red Cross street.

The insurance agents take an optimistic view of the losses, their estimates ranging from $500,000 to $4,000,000. It is a fact that dozens of burned out firms were not insured, in some cases because they were considered to be uninsured, and in others because the locality has long been considered dangerous by the insurance companies.

The latter assert that the sensational reports regarding the losses have been promoted on the stock exchange in order to influence stocks.

All historical treasures of Cripsis Gate church were removed, including the records of Oliver Cromwell's marriage, Milton's burial and the deaths from the plague in 1665.

DESTRUCTIVE FLOOD.

About Seven Miles of the Everett and Monte Cristo Railroad Destroyed.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 22.—Superintendent Edward C. Everett of the Monte Cristo railroad, who went to Monte Cristo on Wednesday's train, walked in from Robe, arriving at Everett Saturday evening. He reports the damage to the road by high water beyond imagination at the present time.

The water in the canyon was many feet higher than ever known before, washing the entire track away.

About the only evidence left is that a railroad can't build itself and a six-timer. The road will not be opened this winter east of Granite Falls. This will prevent the shipment of ore from the Monte Cristo and Silverton districts.

In all probability the road will not be rebuilt through the canyon. The Great Northern has about 70 miles of road almost entirely destroyed. In many cases the iron is washed away and covered with sand. With the most favorable weather the road can not be repaired before the 15th of December.

New Fast Mail Service.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 22.—The new fast mail service on the Santa Fe was inaugurated yesterday morning. The train will start from Kansas City daily at 2:30 in the morning and will lay local and eastern mails down in western Kansas toward nearly 12 hours earlier than heretofore. The express cars will make the same connection for the far west. The train will make 42 miles an hour between here and Newton, Kas., and is said to be the fastest mail train in the country.

No News From Africa.

THREEAND ISLAND, Norway, Nov. 22.—The steamer Victoria, which was fitted out by the governor of Tromsö under instructions from King Oscar, to search for Prof. Andre, the missing son of his party, which had been lost at sea, arrived on November 12, having been turned from Spitzbergen. She brings no news as to the whereabouts or movements of Prof. Andre, although exploring parties landed ten times at various points in Danmarks land.

His Injuries Still Fresh.

BETHANY, Mo., Nov. 22.—Wisewall, the Boston capitalist who was injured by falling into the cellar of the Grand opera house last week, died at the Grady hospital Monday morning at 1 o'clock. He made no attempt to tell of the accident and it is not known exactly how he was injured. His body will be sent to Boston Monday.

Burned to a Crisp.

BETHANY, Mo., Nov. 22.—James Parker, a young man of Perryville, died of burns received in a fire that destroyed Blackburn Brothers' livery barn early Sunday morning. Two coopers tried to rescue them and were nearly suffocated. It is said the fire started from a lantern by which the victims were playing cards.

GEN. ORDWAY.
A Veteran of the Late War, Dies in New York City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Gen. Albert Ordway, of Washington, died at the Hoffman house at 7:15 o'clock Sunday night.

Brevet-Brig. Gen. Albert Ordway, who was born in 1843, served with credit and gallantry throughout the war with the rank of colonel, and became with his regiment the Twenty-fourth Massachusetts infantry. An act of personal gallantry at New Bern, N. C., was followed by his promotion to major, as adjutant of his regiment. He remained in North Carolina until January, 1863, later served in the army of the Potomac, then in Florida and through the campaign of 1864-65 in the army of the James. After the war he was appointed major in the appointed provost marshal of Virginia, where, through a portion of the trouble of reconstruction times, he directed the delicate duties of his position with much skill and great energy. At various times and because of his ability he had been successively promoted until when slightly over 23 years of age he had become brigadier-general, having been promoted in the service to the rank of colonel. His regiment and himself were retained in the service until February, 1866, and were the last volunteer troops mustered out of the service. After his return home he engaged in business at Richmond, and about ten years later removed to Washington, where, as commanding officer of the National guard for a number of years, he brought that organization up to a high standard.

BUSINESS HOUSES
In Melbourne Burned, Entailing a Loss of Five Million Dollars.

MELBOURNE, Nov. 22.—A fire broke out here at 2 o'clock Sunday morning and in a very short space of time did enormous damage. It started at the warehouses of Craig Williamson, in the central business district, and soon spread to the surrounding buildings, reaching the city hall. A strong wind was blowing, and the fiercely flamed flames rapidly engulfed building after building. Despite the desperate efforts of the firemen, the entire block bounded by Swanston and Flinders' lane, with the exception of two buildings on the Swanston street front, were destroyed within three hours.

The burning destruction included many of the largest business houses in Melbourne, the commercial center of the colony.

The marketing of tobacco—This should treat of practical work as done in the different districts as follows: Selecting the seed; the seed bed and how prepared; in the different tobacco fields, the time of sowing; the manner of setting out the plants, the cultivation, fertilization, toppling and cutting, protection from insects, and packing with recommendations for such changes in these methods as will insure an increased price for the products.

(b) Methods of Cultivation—This should treat of the different kinds as done particularly of the types and characteristics of tobacco adapted to each of the different foreign markets; the methods of curing, drying, fermenting and packing with recommendations for such changes in these methods as will insure an increased price for the products.

(c) Marketing of tobacco—This should treat from the commercial side. Cigar leaf—Manufacturing, smoking, plug, cigarettes, C. export. Should include particularly the grading and packing of the different types, with methods as to improve quality and selling methods.

The price offered is a third more than is usually paid by the department, it is hoped that the increased rate will stimulate practical men to take up the study.

SECRETARY ALGER
Has Received a Telegram from a Los Angeles newspaper offering to publish the advertisements of the war department calling for proposals to print the new edition of the United States military post at Boise City, Okla., and the secretary of war has made some strong representations to the war department on the subject with the result that it is now formally announced that the secretary of war does not contemplate the abandonment of Secretarial control.

The people of Idaho have been deeply stirred by the recommendation made by Gen. Merriam, commanding the department of the Columbia, that the United States military post at Boise City, Okla., be abandoned. HON. W. GODFREY HUNTER.

President McKinley Congratulated on His Happy Selection For Minister to Guatemala and Honduras—Brief Sketch of Dr. Hunter's Political Career.

Lexington Leader.

The appointment of Hon. W. Godfrey Hunter as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Guatemala and Honduras was one of the most popular acts of President McKinley's Administration, so far as the distribution of official favors is concerned.

No man has given more loyal service to or made greater sacrifice for the Republic than in Kentucky by Dr. Hunter, and to him is conceded a large part of the credit for the Republican victories of 1894-5-6 in the old Commonwealth.

Dr. Hunter's defeat for United States Senator by factional animosity only strengthened him with the masses of the Republican party, and Senator Debop did a graceful and popular thing in asking that the chief diplomatic appointment allotted to Kentucky be given to the victorious chairman of the great campaign of 1895.

A goodly company of Kentuckians happened together in Washington on the day that Dr. Hunter's appointment was gazetted, called there on various errands, and the suggestion was instantly adopted that the party call in a body on the President the following morning and extend thanks for the handsome compliment paid Dr. Hunter and the Republicans of Kentucky.

Senator Debop was the spokesman of the occasion, and after presenting the delegation to the President he gracefully acknowledged the appointment of Dr. Hunter and said it met with universal approval. Others who accompanied the Senator joined in expressions of thanks and assured the President that the Republicans of Kentucky were gratified that such a signal honor had been paid the ex-Congressman from the Third District.

President McKinley was in his happiest mood and assured the Kentucky visitors that it gave him great pleasure to make the appointment. "I could not forget such a splendid old warhorse as Dr. Hunter," said the President, in thanking the Kentuckians for the courtesy of the call and bidding them goodbye.

The Washington Post in commenting upon the appointment of Dr. Hunter as Minister to Guatemala and Honduras publishes a brief sketch and very just estimate of his political career, which is of interest in this connection. It is as follows:

Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter of Kentucky, President McKinley's appointee as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Guatemala and Honduras, is 50 years old and one of the leaders of the Republican party in his state. He served as a member of the Fifteenth and Fifty-fourth Congresses and had given notice that he would make a contest for a seat in the present House, claiming that he had been elected. He was the candidate of his party for the Senateanship, but, after a long struggle, gave way to Senator Debop, a few Republicans having refused to support Dr. Hunter. He was one of the famous 500 who stood by Gen. Grant in the National Convention of 1880, and was a member of the Convention of 1892 which renominated Gen. Harrison, and the Convention of 1896 which nominated Major McKinley.

Before coming to Congress he served several terms in the Kentucky Legislature.

Dr. Hunter is a gentleman of excellent attainments. His service in Congress was marked by ability of a high order, and as a stalwart Republican he held in esteem by party men generally. Although failing to secure the Kentucky Senatorship himself, his generalship in the exciting contest was no small factor in the result—the election of a Republican to succeed Senator Blackburn. His selection for the Mission to Guatemala and Honduras is an evidence of the Administration's confidence in and regard for him. Having led an active political life for several years, the less exacting role of diplomat in Guatemala—a charming, healthful country—will be in the interest of rest and recreation, of which he stands in need, and which prompted his acceptance of the appointment. He probably will not start his post of duty until early in December, after Congress convenes. His prompt confirmation is regarded as a foregone conclusion.
